

Royal Bank donates to Stardale Women's group

Helen McPhaden (left) of the Stardale Women's Group Inc. accepts a donation from Shaun Hay of the Royal Bank. The Bank has donated $17,000 to the group since 2003. The Stardale Model has provided opportunity and skills for the empowerment of women. The programs and research address gaps in our knowledge about girls and young women who are at risk for gang involvement and juvenile delinquency.
